

= New Brunswick Route 95 =

Route 95 is a 14 @.@ 5 @-@ kilometre @-@ long (9 @.@ 0 mi) provincial highway in New Brunswick , which serves a connector route between Interstate 95 (I @-@ 95) and U.S. Route 2 (US 2) at the Houlton ? Woodstock Border Crossing near Houlton , Maine , United States to Route 2 , which is part of the Trans @-@ Canada Highway , in Woodstock , New Brunswick , Canada . Prior to the construction of Route 95 , the connection between the two cities was served by Route 5 . In 2007 the New Brunswick government completed a roadworks project to turn Route 95 into a full freeway for its entire length .

= = Route description = =

Route 95 begins at the Houlton ? Woodstock Border Crossing on the Maine ? New Brunswick border as an extension of I @-@ 95 and US 2 . The border between the two countries also marks the border between the Eastern Time Zone and the Atlantic Time Zone . The highway travels northeast through woodlands as it approaches its first interchange with Route 540 via a hybrid diamond interchange / partial cloverleaf interchange , providing access to the towns of Richmond Corner and Belleville . Continuing east , the highway crosses over Plymouth Road before intersecting an eastbound exit for Vivglenn Road , which connects to Route 555 . The final exit on the highway is a trumpet interchange with Route 2 , which is part of the Trans @-@ Canada Highway , in Woodstock .

= = History = =

A road linking Houlton to Woodstock has existed since at least 1927 , and was numbered Route 5 between 1938 and 1951 . The current Route 95 was constructed in the late 1970s and numbered Route 95 by 1981 . By 1989 , the intersection between Route 95 and Route 2 was converted into an interchange . In 2007 , the New Brunswick Department of Transportation completed a CA $ 33 million construction project , turning Route 95 from a two @-@ lane undivided highway to a grade @-@ separated four lane freeway . The Province has contracted with Brun @-@ Way Highway Operations to provide maintenance for the highway until 2023 .

= = Exit list = =

The entire route is in Carleton County .