

$$= 2 =$$

$$0 + ( 1 \times 21 ) )$$

Adding two " 1 " digits produces a digit " 0 " , while 1 must be added to the next column . This is similar to what happens in decimal when certain single @-@ digit numbers are added together ; if the result equals or exceeds the value of the radix ( 10 ) , the digit to the left is incremented :