

= M @-@ 201 (Michigan highway) =

M @-@ 201 is a state trunkline highway in the US state of Michigan that serves as a spur route for the village of Northport near the northern tip of Leelanau County . The trunkline zig @-@ zags through to provide a path through the village , connecting with the county road that provides access to Leelanau State Park . The highway was first shown on state maps in the late 1940s , and remains unchanged since .

= = Route description = =

M @-@ 201 starts on the south side of the Northport at M @-@ 22 and runs north on Shabwasung Street . The highway turns east onto Main Street for one block ; the area in town is predominantly residential . At the intersection with Waukazoo Street , the trunkline turns north until it meets Nagonaba Street where it runs west for a block before turning north onto Mill Street , passing near the marina . Heading out of the village , the highway crosses Northport Creek and passes some small farms . The designation ends at the village limits just south of the three @-@ way intersection of Mill Street , County Road 640 (CR 640) , and East Peterson Park Road . CR 640 continues northward to Leelanau State Park at the tip of the Leelanau Peninsula

Like other state highways in Michigan , M @-@ 201 is maintained by the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) . In 2011 , the department 's traffic surveys showed that on average , 2 @,@ 245 vehicles used the highway daily . No section of M @-@ 201 is listed on the National Highway System , a network of roads important to the country 's economy , defense , and mobility .

= = History = =

The entire routing was transferred to state control at an earlier date , but it would first appear on the state highway map published on April 1 , 1949 . The highway remains unchanged since designation .

= = Major intersections = =

The entire highway is in Leelanau County .