NY 424 began at an intersection with NY 380 in the town of Stockton . The route headed northeast , passing by forests and homes as it ascended Stockton Hill . Here , it intersected with Nelson Hill Road , a short alternate route of NY 424 . After reaching the top of the hill , NY 424 became known as Stockton Hill Road and went through fields on its way to the village of Cassadaga . Once in the village limits , the highway intersected Putnam Road (CR 71) in an area of Cassadaga known as Burnhams . NY 424 continued on into the heart of the village , passing by homes and the southern end of Lower Lake before coming to an end at an intersection with NY 60 .

NY 424 was assigned as part of the 1930 renumbering of state highways in New York . It went unchanged until April 1 , 1980 , when ownership and maintenance of the route was transferred from the state of New York to Chautauqua County as part of a highway maintenance swap between the two levels of government . The other routes given to the county were the portion of NY 380 between NY 424 and U.S. Route 20 (US 20) , the entirety of NY 428 , and two reference routes in Dunkirk and Fredonia . In return , the state assumed control of NY 394 between NY 5 and US 20 , US 62 from NY 394 to NY 60 , and Forest Avenue south of Jamestown . The NY 424 designation was officially removed on August 7 , 1980 , and its former routing is now part of CR 58 , which was extended over the length of the state highway .
