

= M @-@ 157 (Michigan highway) =

M @-@ 157 is a short state trunkline highway in the US state of Michigan . The highway is entirely within Roscommon County in the Lower Peninsula . It is the fourth shortest state highway in the system , and it serves as a connector route between M @-@ 18 and M @-@ 55 just east of Prudenville . The current roadway was built and designated as M @-@ 157 in the 1930s .

= = Route description = =

M @-@ 157 begins at an intersection with M @-@ 55 east of Prudenville and Houghton Lake . The trunkline angles to the northwest before turning north near Ryan Lake . Serving as a short connector , the highway travels north through the Roscommon State Forest terminating just over a mile later at a junction with M @-@ 18 . M @-@ 157 has not been listed on the National Highway System , a system of highways important to the nation 's economy , defense , and mobility . The average annual daily traffic (AADT) in 2008 was 496 vehicles per day .

= = History = =

M @-@ 157 was originally designated in 1931 as a connector route between M @-@ 55 and US 27 (present day M @-@ 18) . Just a year later , that version was decommissioned , and the road obliterated . A new alignment , the present @-@ day routing of M @-@ 157 , was then commissioned just to the east .

= = Major intersections = =

The entire highway is in Backus Township , Roscommon County .