

= New Jersey Route 184 =

Route 184 is a state highway in New Jersey , United States . It is an old section of Route 440 that was rerouted . Route 184 's western end is at an intersection with the Garden State Parkway in Woodbridge Township ; NJ 184 's eastern end is at an intersection with Route 35 in Perth Amboy . The highway passes several local landmarks along the highway , but is less populated than the surrounding area . The entire highway is concurrent with County Route 501 , but is not county @-@ maintained .

The route originated as Route S4 , which became NJ 440 on January 1 , 1953 . In 1974 , a part of Route 440 was bypassed and rerouted , and the New Jersey State Highway Department reassigned the former alignment as NJ 184 .

= = Route description = =

Route 184 begins at an interchange with the Garden State Parkway 's exit 129 and County Route 501 ( CR 501 ) n Woodbridge Township . The route , immediately concurrent with CR 501 is known as King Georges Road , which turns to the north near Fords Park . Just after the split from King Georges Road , Route 184 enters a partial cloverleaf interchange with US 9 and passes south of Hopelawn Park . After passing the local cemetery , the route crosses a junction with CR 655 ( Florida Grove Road ) . Continuing east , the route becomes known as Pfeffer Boulevard and crosses an interchange with Route 440 in Perth Amboy .

Just east of Route 440 , the route continues northward until reaching an intersection with Route 35 ( Convery Boulevard ) , marking the eastern terminus of Route 184 .

= = History = =

Route 184 originated as a prefixed spur of Route 4 ( currently an alignment of U.S. Route 9 ) , New Jersey State Highway Route S @-@ 4 , first defined in 1927 . The highway was an alignment from the new Outerbridge Crossing to Route 4 . It was eventually extended from Route 4 to the recently built Route 4 Parkway ( now the Garden State Parkway ) in 1951 . In the 1953 renumbering on January 1 , 1953 , Route S @-@ 4 was decommissioned and renumbered to Route 440 to match up with New York State Route 440 in Staten Island .

= = Major intersections = =

The entire route is in Middlesex County .