

= M @-@ 311 ( Michigan highway ) =

M @-@ 311 is a 13 @. @ 7 @-@ mile @-@ long ( 22 @. @ 0 km ) state trunkline highway in Calhoun County in the US state of Michigan that runs from the intersection of M @-@ 60 in Burlington north to I @-@ 94 at Exit 104 in Emmett Township . It was previously an unsigned state trunkline , meaning that no reassurance markers were used to identify the highway . The route mainly consists of 11 Mile Road , which was a county road prior to the 1998 rationalization process .

= = Route description = =

M @-@ 311 follows 11 Mile Road between M @-@ 60 and I @-@ 94 . In the village of Burlington , M @-@ 311 is known as Marshall Street . There is a jog in 11 Mile Road as it runs northwesterly between Q Drive and O Drive . At N Drive , M @-@ 311 / 11 Mile Road turns along N Drive a short distance before turning back northward . Near D Drive , 11 Mile Road passes Hyde Lake . M @-@ 311 crosses the Kalamazoo River just south of I @-@ 94 . All of M @-@ 311 is two @-@ lane , rural highway in forest lands and farm fields , and none of it is listed on the National Highway System .

= = History = =

M @-@ 311 was created on October 1 , 1998 as a part of Governor John Engler 's Rationalization process . The original routing started at BL I @-@ 94 / Michigan Avenue and Raymond Avenue . It followed Raymond Avenue to Emmet Street before turning east to Cooper Avenue . From Cooper Avenue , M @-@ 311 turned east again on N Drive North until meeting 11 Mile Road . There it followed 11 Mile Road south to M @-@ 60 in Burlington . Since the original transfer , all of M @-@ 311 north of I @-@ 94 was returned to Calhoun County control . This eliminated the section that made a " U @-@ turn " . Since December 2009 , the highway has been signed in the field .

= = Major intersections = =

The entire highway is in Calhoun County .