

= Ohio State Route 370 =

State Route 370 (SR 370) is 1 @. @ 21 @- @ mile (1 @. @ 95 km) long north ? south state highway in the western part of the U.S. state of Ohio . The highway runs from its southern terminus at the main entrance to John Bryan State Park nearly two miles (3 @. @ 2 km) southeast of Yellow Springs to its northern terminus at SR 343 about 0 @. @ 75 miles (1 @. @ 21 km) east of Yellow Springs .

SR 370 was established in the middle of the 1930s . A spur route , it connects John Bryan State Park to the state highway system . This two @- @ lane highway is located in the northern portion of Greene County .

= = Route description = =

The entire 1 @. @ 21 @- @ mile (1 @. @ 95 km) length of SR 370 exists within the boundaries of Miami Township in northern Greene County . The highway begins at the main entrance to John Bryan State Park nearly 2 miles (3 @. @ 2 km) southeast of Yellow Springs . As it travels to the north , SR 370 passes amidst a blend of open fields and woods , with a number of houses appearing alongside the highway . It arrives at its northern terminus where it intersects SR 343 .

According to a 2008 survey by the Ohio Department of Transportation , an average of 250 passenger vehicles and 10 commercial vehicles travel the length of SR 370 on a daily basis . This route is not included as a part of the National Highway System .

= = History = =

SR 370 was established in 1934 . Throughout its history , SR 370 has served as a spur route off of SR 343 that provides access to John Bryan State Park . When it was first designated , the entirety of the route was a gravel roadway . The highway was paved by 1941 . Since that time , the route has not experienced any changes of major significance .

= = Major intersections = =

The entire route is in Miami Township , Greene County .