Arctic Monkeys are an English rock band formed in 2002 in High Green , a suburb of Sheffield . The band consists of Alex Turner ( lead vocals , rhythm guitar , lead guitar ) , Matt Helders ( drums , vocals ) , Jamie Cook ( lead guitar , rhythm guitar , piano ) and Nick O 'Malley ( bass , backing vocals ) . Former band member Andy Nicholson ( bass guitar , backing vocals ) left the band in 2006 shortly after their debut album was released .

They have released five studio albums : Whatever People Say I Am , That 's What I 'm Not ( 2006 ) , Favourite Worst Nightmare ( 2007 ) , Humbug ( 2009 ) , Suck It and See ( 2011 ) and AM ( 2013 ) , as well as one live album , At the Apollo ( 2008 ) . Their debut album is the fastest @-@ selling debut album by a band in British chart history , and in 2013 , Rolling Stone ranked it the 30th @-@ greatest debut album of all time .

The band has won seven Brit Awards ? winning both Best British Group and Best British Album three times , and have been nominated for three Grammy Awards . They also won the Mercury Prize in 2006 for their debut album , in addition to receiving nominations in 2007 and 2013 . The band have headlined at the Glastonbury Festival twice , in 2007 and again in 2013 .

Arctic Monkeys were heralded as one of the first bands to come to public attention via the Internet , with commentators suggesting they represented the possibility of a change in the way in which new bands are promoted and marketed .

= = = Early years and record deal ( 2003 ? 05 ) = = =

The band began rehearsing at Yellow Arch Studios in Neepsend , and played its first gig on 13 June 2003 at The Grapes in Sheffield city centre . After a few performances in 2003 , the band began to record demos at 2fly studios in Sheffield . 18 songs were demoed in all and the collection , now known as Beneath the Boardwalk , was burned on to CDs to give away at gigs , which were promptly file @-@ shared amongst fans . The name Beneath the Boardwalk originated when the first batch of demos were sent around . The first sender , wanting to classify the demos , named them after where he received them , the Boardwalk . Slowly , as more demos were spread , they were all classified under this name . This has led to many people falsely believing that Beneath the Boardwalk was an early album , or that the early demos were all released under this title . The group did not mind the distribution , saying " we never made those demos to make money or anything . We were giving them away free anyway ? that was a better way for people to hear them . " When asked about the popularity of the band 's MySpace site in an interview with Prefix Magazine , the band said that they were unaware what it was , and that the site had originally been created by their fans .

The band began to grow in popularity across the north of England , receiving attention from BBC Radio and the British tabloid press . A local amateur photographer , Mark Bull , filmed the band 's performances and made the music video " Fake Tales of San Francisco " , releasing it on his website , alongside the contents of Beneath the Boardwalk ? a collection of the band 's songs which he named after a local music venue . In May 2005 , Arctic Monkeys released their first single , Five Minutes with Arctic Monkeys on their own ' Bang Bang ' label , featuring the songs " Fake Tales of San Francisco " and " From the Ritz to the Rubble " . This release was limited to 500 CDs and 1 @, @ 000 7 " records , but was also available to download from the iTunes Music Store . Soon after , the band played at the Carling Stage of the Reading and Leeds Festivals , reserved for less known or unsigned bands . Their appearance was hyped by much of the music press and the band was watched by an unusually large crowd .

Eventually , they were signed to Domino in June 2005 . The band said they were attracted to the DIY ethic of Domino owner Laurence Bell , who ran the label from his flat and only signed bands that he liked personally . The UK 's Daily Star reported that this was followed in October by a £ 1 million publishing deal with EMI and a £ 725 @, @ 000 contract with Epic Records for the United States . Arctic Monkeys denied this on their website , dubbing the newspaper " The Daily Stir " . However , Domino had licensed the Australian and New Zealand publishing rights to EMI and the Japanese rights to independent label Hostess . Their first single with Domino , " I Bet You Look Good on the Dancefloor " , which was recorded at Chapel Studios in Lincolnshire , was released on 17 October 2005 and went straight to No. 1 on the UK Singles Chart , beating Sugababes and Robbie Williams . Two weeks previous to this , it made its first appearance on the cover of NME . Their second single , " When the Sun Goes Down " ( previously titled " Scummy " ) , released on 16 January 2006 , also went straight to No. 1 on the UK Singles Chart , selling 38 @, @ 922 copies and taking over that position from Shayne Ward . The band 's success with little marketing or advertising led some to suggest that it could signal a change in how new bands achieve recognition .

= = = Whatever People Say I Am , That 's What I 'm Not ( 2006 ) = = =

The band finished recording their debut album , Whatever People Say I Am , That 's What I 'm Not , at Chapel Studios in Lincolnshire in September 2005 with Jim Abbiss producing . Whatever People Say I Am , That 's What I 'm Not became the fastest selling debut album in UK chart history , selling 363 @, @ 735 copies in the first week . This smashed the previous record of 306 @, @ 631 copies held by Popstars by Hear 'Say , and sold more copies on its first day alone ? 118 @, @ 501 ? than the rest of the Top 20 albums combined . The cover sleeve of Whatever People Say I Am , That 's What I 'm Not , showing Chris McClure , a friend of the band smoking a cigarette , was criticised by the head of the NHS in Scotland for " reinforcing the idea that smoking is OK " . The image on the CD itself is a shot of an ashtray full of cigarettes . The band 's product manager denied the accusation , and suggested the opposite ? " You can see from the image smoking is not doing him the world of good . "

The record was released a month later in the US on 21 February 2006 and entered at No. 24 on the Billboard album chart after it sold 34 @, @ 000 units in its first week , making it the second fastest selling for a debut indie rock album in America . However , US sales for the first year did not match those of the first week in the UK for the album . US critics were more reserved about the band than their UK counterparts , and appeared unwilling to be drawn into the possibility of " yet another example of the UK 's press over @-@ hyping new bands " . However , the band 's June 2006 tour of North America received critical acclaim at each stop ? the hype surrounding them " proven to exist for good reason " . Meanwhile , the UK 's NME magazine declared the band 's debut album the " 5th greatest British album of all time " . It also equalled the record of The Strokes and Oasis at the 2006 NME Awards , winning three fan @-@ voted awards for Best British Band , Best New Band and Best Track for " I Bet You Look Good on the Dancefloor " .

Arctic Monkeys wasted no time in recording new material , and released a five @-@ track EP on 24 April 2006 , titled Who the Fuck Are Arctic Monkeys ? . Due to its length , the EP was ineligible to chart as a UK single or album . Furthermore , the record 's graphic language has resulted in significantly less radio airplay than previous records , although this was not a reported concern according to an insider ? " since they made their name on the Internet ... they don 't care if they don 't get radio play " . The release of the EP Who the Fuck Are Arctic Monkeys ? just three months after their record @-@ breaking debut album has been criticised by some , who have seen it as " money @-@ grabbing " and " cashing in on their success " . The band countered that it regularly releases new music not to make money , but to avoid the " boredom " of " spending three years touring on one album " .

Soon after the release of the EP in the UK , the band announced that Andy Nicholson would not take part in the band 's forthcoming North America tour due to fatigue from " an intensive period of touring " . On returning to the UK , Nicholson confirmed that he would leave Arctic Monkeys and start his own project . He also said that he couldn 't deal with the band 's fame and the success over the previous six months . In a statement on their official website , the band said : " We are sad to tell everyone that Andy is no longer with the band " , also confirmed that Nick O 'Malley ? former bassist with The Dodgems who had drafted in as temporary bassist for the tour ? would continue as bassist for the rest of their summer tour schedule . Shortly after , Nick O 'Malley was confirmed as the formal replacement for Nicholson .

Arctic Monkeys ' first release without Nicholson , the single " Leave Before the Lights Come On " , came on 14 August 2006 . Turner said that the song was one of the last songs he wrote before their rise to fame , and suggested that " it feels very much like it could be on the album " . Peaking at No. 4 in the UK , the single became the band 's first failure to reach No. 1 . The band was re @-@ united at the Leeds Festival when Nicholson met up with his former band mates and his replacement bassist , O 'Malley . Only the original band members , minus Nicholson , were present at the award ceremony when Whatever People Say I Am , That 's What I 'm Not won the 2006 Mercury Prize two weeks later .

= = = Favourite Worst Nightmare ( 2007 ) = = =

The band 's second album , Favourite Worst Nightmare , was released on 23 April 2007 , a week after the release of accompanying single " Brianstorm " . Like its predecessor , Favourite Worst Nightmare also quickly reached No. 1 in the album charts . Turner described the songs as " very different from last time " , adding that the sound of some tracks are " a bit full @-@ on ? a bit like " From the Ritz to the Rubble " , " The View from the Afternoon " , that sort of thing . " A secret gig played at Sheffield 's Leadmill on 10 February 2007 , debuted seven new songs ( six from Favourite Worst Nightmare and one other ) . Early reviews of the release were positive , and described it as " very , very fast and very , very loud . "

Meanwhile , the band continued to pick up awards from around the world , namely the ' Best New Artist in the United States ' at the PLUG Independent Music Awards , the " Album of the Year " awards in Japan , Ireland and the US , awards for " Best Album " and " Best Music DVD " for the short film " Scummy Man " at the 2007 NME Awards . It ended the year by clinching the " Best British Band " and " Best British Album " at the 2008 BRIT Awards . For the second year in a row , the band was nominated for the annual Mercury Prize , although it failed to match its feat of 2006 after the award went to Klaxons ' Myths of the Near Future .

On 29 April 2007 , the day Favourite Worst Nightmare charted at No. 1 in the UK Albums Chart , all 12 tracks from the album charted in the Top 200 of the UK Singles Chart . On 27 April 2007 it had a total of 18 tracks in the Top 200 . " Fluorescent Adolescent " and " 505 " charted in the Top 75 , at No. 60 and No. 74 respectively . The band later released " Fluorescent Adolescent " as a single , and it charted at No. 5 , after debuting the song live on The Jonathan Ross Show .

The third single from Favourite Worst Nightmare , " Teddy Picker " , was released on 3 December 2007 . It charted at No. 20 and remained only one week in the top 40 staying in this position , making it the lowest charting single for the band so far . Prior to this release the band released an extremely limited number of 250 vinyl under the pseudonym The Death Ramps containing two of the b @-@ sides from the " Teddy Picker " single .

Arctic Monkeys headlined the Glastonbury Festival on 22 June 2007 , the highlights of which were aired on BBC2 . During their headline act , the band performed with Dizzee Rascal and Simian Mobile Disco and covered Shirley Bassey 's " Diamonds Are Forever " . The band also played a large gig at Dublin 's Malahide Castle on 16 June 2007 , with a second date added the following day . The band was also slated to play the Austin City Limits Music Festival in September 2007 . Other European festivals include Rock Werchter in 2007 . The band played two shows at Cardiff International Arena on 19 and 20 June 2007 supported by local friends of the band , Reverend and the Makers . It also played two London gigs at Alexandra Palace on 8 and 9 December 2007 . On 1 September 2007 the band insisted on taking a working holiday to Ibiza where it played what turned out to be the last ever full live Ibiza Rocks show in Bar M ( now Ibiza Rocks Bar ) . The band performed in front of 700 people in the bar by the beach whilst many thousands lined the beach outside unable to get a ticket ? The Sun described this concert as the " rock event of the summer " stating that " most people left saying they had just witnessed the best gig of their lives " . The band played their last show of the tour on 17 December 2007 at Manchester Apollo , which was filmed for the live DVD ' At The Apollo ' which was released in cinemas the following year .

== = Humbug ( 2008 ? 10 ) = = =

After a brief hiatus during which Alex Turner toured and recorded with his side project The Last Shadow Puppets , the band recorded a total of 24 songs ; 12 in the Rancho De La Luna recording sessions with Josh Homme of Queens of the Stone Age in early autumn , 2008 , and 12 in the New York sessions with James Ford in spring , 2009 , following their January tour of New Zealand and Australia . During this tour , lead single " Crying Lightning " , along with Humbug songs " Pretty Visitors " , " Dangerous Animals " , and " Potion Approaching " ( then known as " Go @-@ Kart " ) , was debuted live . It was later revealed by Matt Helders in a video diary that the album would consist of 14 tracks and that Alex Turner would stay in New York to oversee the mixing of the material . However , the final track listing , revealed on 1 June 2009 , listed only 10 .

In a preview article on ClashMusic.com , writer Simon Harper claimed that the band had " completely defied any expectations or presumptions to explore the depths they can reach when stepping foot outside their accepted styles , " and that " Turner is his usual eloquent self , but has definitely graduated into an incomparable writer whose themes twist and turn through stories and allegories so potent and profound it actually leaves one breathless " . On the same site , Alex Turner revealed that the band had listened to Nick Cave , Jimi Hendrix , and Cream while writing the new album , the title of which would be Humbug . Humbug was released on 19 August 2009 , and , like both of its predecessors , the album went straight to No. 1 .

As announced on Arctic Monkeys ' website , the first single was " Crying Lightning " , released on 6 July , digitally through iTunes and also received its first radio premiere on the same day . On 12 July 2009 , the single " Crying Lightning " debuted at number 12 in the UK Singles Chart and number 1 on the UK Indie Chart . The second single , " Cornerstone " , was released on 16 November 2009 to much critical acclaim , but failed to replicate the same success that every prior Arctic Monkeys single had , reaching a peak at position 94 on the UK singles chart . It was announced in February 2010 that the third and final single to be taken from Humbug would be " My Propeller " , released on 22 March , shortly before a one off UK show at the Royal Albert Hall in support of the Teenage Cancer Trust on 27 March .

Arctic Monkeys embarked on the first leg of the worldwide Humbug Tour in January 2009 and went on to headline 2009 's Reading and Leeds Festivals . During this performance , it played a number of songs from Humbug , plus older tracks and a cover of Nick Cave and the Bad Seeds ' " Red Right Hand " . It was also the headline act on the first night of 2009 's Exit festival in Serbia . In North America , where it has less of a following , it played abridged sets at Montreal 's Osheaga Festival , as well as New Jersey 's All Points West Music and Arts Festival . The tour finished on 22 April 2010 in Mexico .

= = Musical style and influences = =

The band 's music is known to fall under the umbrella of indie rock . A key part of their sound , and one that translates across their whole discography , is lead singer and frontman Alex Turner 's intricate and often rapidly delivered lyrics , sung in a distinctive strong Sheffield accent that their music became famed for in their early years . A large part of their iconic British sound is credited to the punk poet John Cooper Clarke from whom the Arctic Monkeys even borrowed lyrics and the title from in " I Wanna Be Yours " . Turner adapted Clarke 's method of delivery mostly in their first album , Whatever People Say I Am That 's What I 'm Not . Their early albums Whatever People Say I Am That 's What I 'm Not and Favourite Worst Nightmare were rooted in garage rock and post @-@ punk revival , with Turner 's sharp lyrics the focal point . On the first album Alex Turner examined human behaviour in nightclubs and in the culture of the band 's hometown , Sheffield . Turner describes " Dancing Shoes " as being about " people always looking to pull when they go out however much they mask it . "

These themes continued on the following album Favourite Worst Nightmare with the band still progressing as musicians . Songs such as " Fluorescent Adolescent " and " Do Me a Favour " explored failed relationships , nostalgia and growing old , while musically the band took up a more uptempo and aggressive sound .

Their third album Humbug includes strong stoner rock and desert rock elements , due to the influence of the album 's producer and Queens of The Stone Age frontman , Joshua Homme . For Humbug , the band actively sought a new sound . Homme was quoted saying , " They came to me : ' Will you take us to the weird and the strange ? ' "

Their fourth album Suck It and See sees the band exploring styles , mixing them with newfound maturity . Turner said : " I think the new album is a balance between our first three . There 's nothing about taxi ranks or anything like that , but there 's a bit of the standpoint I had on those early songs and the sense of humour , but also there 's a bit of the ' Humbug ' stuff which is kind of off in the corners . " Critics noted an influence from British rock bands from the 1960s , as well as The Smiths , and slower , love @-@ themed ballads featured more heavily on the album than the fast @-@ paced , rockier songs that typifies the band 's sound .

In a 2012 interview with NME magazine , frontman Alex Turner cited John Lennon as a major influence lyrically . Speaking about Lennon , Turner said ; " I remember when I first started writing songs , and writing lyrics , I really wanted to be able to write an " I Am the Walrus " type song , and I found it very difficult . You listen to that and it sounds like it 's all nonsense , but it 's difficult to write that sort of thing and make it compelling . Lennon definitely had a knack for that " .

According to the band , the fifth album AM is more hip @-@ hop influenced . As Alex Turner stated in an interview with NME , it 's " like a Dr. Dre beat , but we 've given it an Ike Turner bowl @-@ cut and sent it galloping across the desert on a Stratocaster " . He also cited Outkast , Aaliyah and Black Sabbath as influences for the album .
