

= M @-@ 331 (Michigan highway) =

M @-@ 331 is an unsigned state trunkline highway in the U.S. state of Michigan located within the city of Kalamazoo . It runs from the southern city limits north into downtown Kalamazoo . This was one of many highways to be established or realigned as a result of a rationalization process initiated in 1998 during the tenure of Governor John Engler . M @-@ 331 uses streets in Kalamazoo that were once part of US Highway 131 (US 131) before a freeway was built that bypassed the downtown area .

= = Route description = =

M @-@ 331 runs along Westnedge Avenue from the intersection of Kilgore Road on the Kalamazoo ? Portage city limit near an exit with Interstate 94 (I @-@ 94) . It runs north from this endpoint , which is unconnected to the rest of the trunkline system , to the vicinity of Crane Park in Kalamazoo along Westnedge Avenue . M @-@ 331 runs west of Blanche Hull Park and east of the Kalamazoo Country Club . It also passes immediately next to the Mt . Ever @-@ Rest Cemetery . From Crane Park northward , Park Street carries the northbound traffic while Westnedge Avenue is restricted to the southbound traffic . Along this pairing of one @-@ way streets , M @-@ 331 passes South Westnedge Park and meets Bronson Park at the intersection of Michigan Avenue (eastbound Business Loop Interstate 94 / M @-@ 43 and northbound Business US Highway 131) downtown . The M @-@ 331 designation ends at Michigan Avenue , and Westnedge Avenue and Park Street continue north as Bus . US 131 .

= = History = =

The current alignment of M @-@ 331 was part of the long @-@ time alignment of US 131 before that highway was relocated onto a freeway west of Kalamazoo in the 1960s . The trunkline was designated on October 1 , 1998 as part of a rationalization process started by Governor John Engler designed to transfer control of roads and streets in Michigan of economic importance to the state . The highway is not shown on the official state map published by the Michigan Department of Transportation , but it is labeled on the truck operator 's map as an " unsigned state highway " .
