

= Delaware Route 34 =

Delaware Route 34 ( DE 34 ) , also known as Faulkland Road , is a state highway in New Castle County , Delaware . The route runs from an intersection with unnumbered Duncan Road , just west of DE 41 , north of Prices Corner to DE 100 near Elsmere . Along the way , the route intersects DE 41 and DE 141 as it passes through suburban areas to the west of Wilmington . The road was paved in the 1930s and designated DE 34 in the 1970s .

= Route description =

DE 34 begins at an intersection with Duncan Road north of Prices Corner and heads east on two @-@ lane undivided Faulkland Road through wooded areas and homes . The route intersects DE 41 before it crosses Red Clay Creek and the Wilmington and Western Railroad . The road continues east through suburban neighborhoods , crossing Centerville Road . Farther east , DE 34 runs through residential and commercial areas as it comes to an intersection with DE 141 . Past this junction , the route passes to the south of DuPont 's Chestnut Run Plaza research facility . DE 34 crosses an East Penn Railroad line and heads between two cemeteries before ending at DE 100 north of Elsmere , just west of the western city limit of Wilmington .

DE 34 has an annual average daily traffic count ranging from a high of 10 @,@ 744 vehicles at the DE 100 intersection to a low of 3 @,@ 874 vehicles at the DE 41 intersection . None of DE 34 is part of the National Highway System .

= History =

What is now DE 34 originally existed as a county road by 1920 . By 1936 , the road was paved . DE 34 was designated between Duncan Road and DE 100 by 1976 .

= Major intersections =

The entire route is in New Castle County .