Mississippi Highway 572 (MS 572) is a former state highway in southwestern Mississippi . The route 's western terminus was in Centreville of Wilkinson county . MS 572 traveled east and intersected MS 24 and MS 33 , just east of the town . It ended at MS 569 south of Beechwood . MS 572 was designated in 1957 , from MS 24 and MS 33 to MS 569 . The route was extended west to Centreville , and was removed from the state highway system in 1967 .

= = Route description = =

As of 1965 , the route was located in eastern Wilkinson and western Amite counties . All of the route was a two @-@ laned paved road . MS 572 began at the center of Centreville , near a railroad track . The route then traveled down Park Road until it exited Wilkinson County and entered Amite County . After crossing the county line , MS 572 intersected MS 24 and MS 33 , and MS 572 was also branded Lower Centreville Road . Continuing eastward , the route exited Centreville and crossed over Beaver Creek and emerged into the village of Olio . MS 572 left Olio , and ended few miles later at MS 569 at a T @-@ intersection . Lower Centreville Road continued east , concurrent with MS 569 . MS 572 was maintained by the Mississippi State Highway Commission and Amite County , as part of the state highway system .
