

$= k \cdot \frac{1}{r^2}$. In contrast to Newton , however , Mahomed and Vawda did not require that the radial motion of the two particles be the same , $r_1 =$ r_2 . Rather , they required that the inverse radii be related by a linear equation <formula>