Brayden Schenn

Brayden Michael Schenn (/ ???n / ; born August 22 , 1991) is a Canadian professional ice hockey centre currently playing for the Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League (NHL) . Schenn , also known as Little Schenn or Schenner , was drafted by the Los Angeles Kings fifth overall in the 2009 NHL Entry Draft . He made his NHL debut for the Kings in October 2009 , after being called up on an emergency basis . Schenn has represented Canada internationally at several tournaments , and won two silver medals at the 2010 and 2011 World Junior Ice Hockey Championships . At the 2011 tournament , Schenn tied Canada 's record for points in a single tournament , and was selected to the Tournament 's All @-@ Star Team as well as being named Top Forward , and Most Valuable Player . His older brother Luke Schenn is a defenceman who plays for the Arizona Coyotes .

Hockey career

Minor

Schenn played minor hockey in his hometown of Saskatoon , Saskatchewan . He played AAA midget hockey for the Saskatoon Contacts . During the 2006 ? 07 season , his teammates included Jared Cowen and Carter Ashton . In the 2006 WHL Bantam Draft , Schenn was selected in the first round , ninth overall , by the Brandon Wheat Kings . His teammates Cowen and Ashton were selected first and eighth overall , respectively . In his last season of midget hockey , he scored 70 points in 41 games .

Junior

Schenn started his major junior career with the Brandon Wheat Kings in 2007 ? 08 . He was Brandon 's first pick in the 2006 WHL Bantam Draft . Schenn made his WHL debut on September 21 , 2007 , against the Saskatoon Blades , earning his first WHL point , an assist . Later in the season , on October 17 , he notched his first WHL goal against the Red Deer Rebels . Schenn finished his first season as the Wheat Kings ' leading scorer and as the top rookie scorer in the WHL tallying 28 goals and 43 assists for 71 points , earning him the Jim Piggott Memorial Trophy as WHL Rookie of the Year , and a spot on the Canadian Hockey League (CHL) All @-@ Rookie Team . He was also the inaugural winner of the 2007 ? 08 Boston Pizza WHL ' Fan 's Choice ' Award . He also picked up the Wheat Kings team awards for Rookie of the Year and Most Popular Player .
Schenn spent the 2008 ? 09 season playing with the Wheat Kings and served as their co @-@ captain alongside Matt Calvert . In January 2009 , he was named the WHL and CHL Player of the Week , after scoring 7 points in two games . Also in January , Schenn was selected as the winner of the H. L. (Krug) Crawford Memorial Medal which is emblematic of athletic achievement in western Manitoba . He finished the season with 85 points in 69 games to lead the Wheat Kings in scoring a second consecutive season . He finished seventh overall in scoring for the WHL , and was named to the WHL 's Eastern Conference Second All @-@ Star Team . During the season , Schenn played in the CHL Top Prospects Game and represented the WHL in the ADT Canada @-@ Russia Challenge .
Leading up to the 2009 NHL Entry Draft , Schenn had been listed as the third highest prospect among WHL players in the NHL Central Scouting Service (CSS) ' s preliminary rankings , while International Scouting (ISS) ranked him at fifth overall and first in the WHL . Schenn 's ranking remained the same at fifth overall with the NHL CSS 's midway ranking . E. J. McGuire , the director of NHL 's Central Scouting Bureau compared facets of Schenn 's game to Jonathan Cheechoo and Joe Thornton . At the 2009 NHL Entry Draft , he was drafted fifth overall by the Los Angeles Kings .
At the start of the 2009 ? 10 hockey season , Schenn attended training camp with the Kings , but was considered a long shot to make the team . Schenn was returned to Brandon after being one of the last cuts at camp . He served as Brandon 's captain for the 2009 ? 10 WHL season . During the season , Schenn again represented the WHL in the Canada @-@ Russia Challenge series . He finished the regular season with 99 points (34 goals , 65 assists) in 59 games , which tied him for fourth overall in WHL scoring with teammate Matt Calvert . Schenn was named to the WHL Eastern Conference First All @-@ Star Team .

On December 3 , 2010 , the Kings returned Schenn to the Brandon Wheat Kings . He played two games with the Wheat Kings during the 2010 @-@ 11 season before joining Team Canada at the 2011 World Junior Championships . After the tournament was complete , Schenn was dealt to his hometown Saskatoon Blades for a package of draft picks and prospects . He played in 27 games with the Blades , scoring 21 goals and adding 32 assists . Despite playing less than half a season in the WHL , Schenn was named to the league 's Eastern Conference Second All @-@ Star Team at the end of the regular season .

= = = Professional = = =

Schenn played his first NHL game on November 26 , 2009 , against the Vancouver Canucks after being called up on an emergency basis and signed to an amateur , one @-@ game try @-@ out contract . At the time of his debut , Schenn was the third youngest player of all @-@ time to skate for the team . On March 3 , 2010 , he was signed to a three @-@ year contract with the Kings . After training camp for the 2010 ? 11 season , Schenn made the Kings roster but saw limited playing time . He appeared in nine games with the Kings , and spent time with the Manchester Monarchs of the American Hockey League (AHL) for conditioning purposes . On December 3 , 2010 , the Kings returned Schenn to the Brandon Wheat Kings . Following the Saskatoon Blades ' exit from the 2011 WHL Playoffs , he was assigned by the Kings back to the Monarchs on April 17 , 2011 .

Schenn was traded to the Philadelphia Flyers , along with Wayne Simmonds and a 2012 second round pick , for Mike Richards and Rob Bordson on June 23 , 2011 . After sustaining an apparent shoulder injury in the Flyers ' 2011 ? 12 training camp , Schenn was sent down to the Adirondack Phantoms of the AHL for conditioning and salary cap purposes . He recorded two assists in his Phantoms debut , a 6 ? 3 win over the Connecticut Whale . In his second game with Adirondack , he registered three goals and an assist in a 6 ? 3 win against the Bridgeport Sound Tigers . On October 20 , 2011 , Schenn made his Flyers debut in a 5 ? 2 loss to the Washington Capitals , a game in which he struggled and registered a plus @-@ minus rating of ? 3 . He played three more games with the Flyers , but on October 26 , he broke a bone in his foot blocking a slapshot in a 5 ? 1 loss to the Montreal Canadiens . He missed just under a month of playing time . Upon returning from injury , he was reassigned to Adirondack for conditioning purposes . On January 2 , 2012 , Schenn scored his first NHL goal on a rebound during the second period against the New York Rangers , scoring against Henrik Lundqvist during the 2012 NHL Winter Classic . Schenn scored his first career hat trick on February 29 , 2016 against the Calgary Flames .

= = International play = =

Schenn started his Hockey Canada career by representing Saskatchewan at the 2007 Canada Winter Games in Whitehorse , Yukon , where his team finished seventh . During the 2007 ? 08 season , Schenn played for Canada West at the 2008 World U @-@ 17 Hockey Challenge , where he was the leading scorer . After his season with Brandon was over , Schenn played with Team Canada at the 2008 IIHF World U18 Championships in Kazan , Russia , as one of five 16 @-@ year @-@ olds , capturing a gold medal . He tallied 1 goal and 2 assists in 7 games in the tournament . During the summer , he also competed in the 2008 Ivan Hlinka Memorial Tournament , earning another gold medal in the Czech Republic . Schenn served as an alternate captain at the Hlinka Memorial Tournament , and recorded six points (two goals and four assists) in four games .

During the 2008 ? 09 season , Schenn was invited to Team Canada 's tryout camp for the 2009 World Junior Championships , but did not make the final squad . Schenn was invited to Hockey Canada 's summer evaluation camp in August 2009 , and also to the December selection camp for the 2010 World Junior Championships . He made the team and competed in the tournament that was hosted in his home province of Saskatchewan . Schenn won a silver medal with Canada , after they lost the gold medal game in overtime to the American team .

When the Kings returned Schenn to the WHL in December 2010 , it allowed him to try out for Canada 's team at the 2011 World Junior Hockey Championships . Schenn made the team after the December selection camp , and was selected as one of the alternate captains . In Canada 's preliminary round game against the Czech Republic , Schenn was named player of the game . Against Norway , Schenn tied Canada 's record for goals in a single game (held by Mario Lemieux and Simon Gagne) with four . He also added an assist to finish the game with five points . In Canada 's gold medal loss to Russia , Schenn scored a goal and added an assist . He recorded 18 points in the tournament , tying Canada 's all @-@ time record for a single tournament , set by Dale McCourt in 1977 . After the tournament , Schenn was the tournament 's top scorer , and was named to the media All @-@ Star team for the event . The IIHF Directorate named him Best Forward and Tournament MVP . Canada 's coaching staff selected him as one of the team 's top three players for the tournament . At the end of the tournament , it was revealed that Schenn had been playing with a separated shoulder he suffered during Canada 's quarter @-@ final victory against Switzerland .

= = Personal life = =

Brayden Schenn was born August 22 , 1991 , in Saskatoon , Saskatchewan , to Jeff and Rita Schenn . His older brother , Luke , is an NHL defenceman who plays for the Los Angeles Kings . They have two younger sisters Madison and Macy .

= = Career statistics = =

= = = Regular season and playoffs = = =

= = = International = = =

= = Awards = =

= = = Junior = = =

= = = International = = =

= = = Other = = =